P.S.,

Your the best friend I've had at this dumb school. We'll go out during the summer and maybe we'll make it to Mexico. I'm really glad we became friends. See ya,
Tom

Dedication

A yearbook dedication should be deserved, not given away. For this reason we are dedicating the '77 Medallion to our advisor, Frank Pignata. He has been a major part of Country Day for the past twelve years. He is a very special person with a unique ability to communicate with people of all ages

Under Mr. Pignata's leadership as yearbook advisor, the Medallion has become a quality publication. Mr. Pignata's close involvement with the yearbook inspired several generous donations of money and photography equipment, and invited such widespread support from parents and friends of the school that, for the first time, the Medallion concluded the year with significant profit, enabling the staff to purchase two cameras.

The Medallion is just one of Mr. Pignata's contributions to Country Day. He helped plan every phase of the school's development, and often he literally helped build it by doing everything from painting to laying sprinklers. Always, he has time for students. He constantly tutors students in his free time, and he has devoted much of his weekend time to organizing a new ski club, our first extra-curricular club.

Mr. Pignata will always be an important part of Country Day. This is a time to say thank you for all that you have done.
Medallion Staff

John R. Wheaton

President, Board of Trustees

This was a year marked by progress for Sacramento Country Day; it was the culmination of three years of planning and activity. Extensive landscaping, the opening of three new school buildings and the planning for the future were all accomplished. The school reached an enrollment of 357 students and its reputation for providing excellent educational opportunities continued to expand.

People - the students, the faculty, and the parents - shape and strengthen the school; and the school, in turn, strengthens people. Country Day is something very special.

Congratulations to the graduating seniors. We wish you the best in your fields of endeavors and we look forward to your frequent visits to the school, of which you will always be a part. For the rest of us, there is another challenging and rewarding year of education and growth ahead.

Judy Law

President, Parents' Association

During the 1976-77 school year the Parents' Association has continued its tradition of assisting the faculty, staff and the Board of Trustees in providing a rich environment for students at S.C.D.S.

Upon completion of construction, the Parents' Association provided $7,000 to equip the new high school library to meet optimum standards. In addition, equipment totaling $1,500 was purchased for the kitchen, used extensively by the entire student body. The Lower School's physical education program received $1,300 for Gymnastic equipment. Other expenditures included a new card catalog for the Lower School library, 42 MEDALLIONS for distribution to the faculty and staff and refreshments and a "special surprise" at the Lower School Christmas Program and Winter Relays.

These major contributions have been made possible through the fund raising events of the Parents' Association and its dues.

The Parents' Association plays a vital role in helping S.C.D.S. Achieve the excellent academic standards that it's noted for in the community.

The Executive Board of the Parents' Association extends sincere congratulations to the graduating seniors and best wishes of success in their chosen fields.

Headmaster

Academic classes are fairly easy to "schedule," but at S.C.D.S. at least, plays, dances, teams, field trips, publications, and special events normally happen when, together, teachers and students MAKE them happen. The students want - rightfully,

I think - an increasingly active role in developing these activities in the future. We can continue to improve on the ways we work together so long, I think, as we remain a school and avoid becoming an institution.

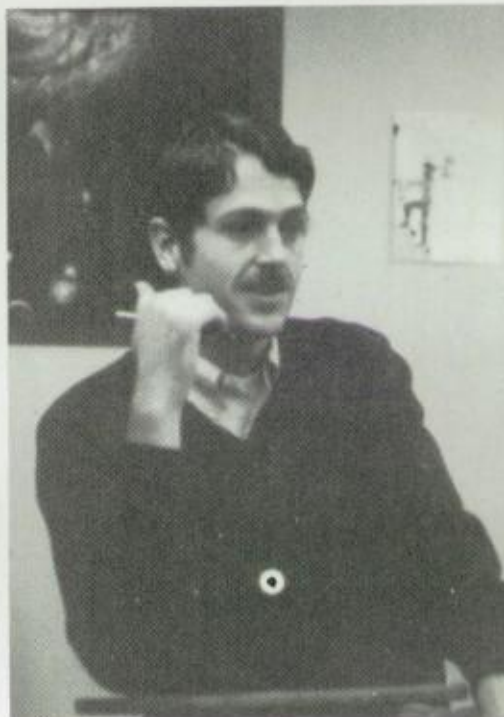

Frank A. Pignata
Assistant Headmaster

This year has been one of many changes. Along with the several new teachers that joined the faculty, we welcome two new teachers to the administrative staff. The construction of three new buildings did much to alleviate the shortage of class space and added much needed Middle and Upper school library. The landscaping was a step in the right direction to improve the looks of the campus. One of the biggest changes, I feel, was the development of a stronger student government in the Upper School. The work that this group did on the evaluation report and on research to come up with a student lounge impressed me very much. I felt these changes did much to keep S.C.D.S. one of the strongest schools in Northern California. A personal high for me was the surprise I received on my 50th birthday. It was a very emotional moment I will never forget. I want to thank all the students and teachers who made this possible. I would like to add my congratulations to the graduates of S.C.D.S. I will miss them very much.

Frances Tidey
Head of Upper School

This was the year of transition. The opening of the library, the science classrooms, and the Multi-purpose building, together with the visit of the Evaluating Committee, turned the high-school into a "real" school. Yet students, teachers, and the visiting evaluators seem to understand the unique value of our unreal beginnings. Teachers and students have developed the ESPRIT D'CORPS of a group camping out together: we have needed to be flexible, tolerant, and creative.

Steve Houk
Head of Middle School

This year the Middle School continued to grow and in the process to define its relationship with the rest of the school community. We staged a Halloween festival for the Lower School that delighted all concerned. We took a trip to Yosemite with the High School, published a school newspaper, put K.C.D.S. on the air at lunchtime, and produced THE OUTLAW KING. We worked hard to make this a successful year and I think we succeeded.

Barbara Ore
Head of Lower School

Energy conservation in the Lower School? Unheard of! Visit any classroom and activity abounds . . . from designing stuffed cities to decoding the mysteries of two-place division; from groping with blindfold and stick in wild search for the piñata, welcoming the Chinese New Year under a winding, vibrant dragon, basket weaving, and counting Campbell Soup labels into groups of ten, to setting up a chicken hatchery, writing books, saving seals, finding one's direction with longitude and latitude, inverting, inferring, comprehending, interpreting, memorizing, appreciating, explaining, listening, stretching, outlining, demonstrating, acting, reacting, singing, playing and enJOYing!

Joan Nelson,
French/Spanish

Playing tennis, reading books, buying clothes, skiing, traveling, running, enjoying my friends, sunbathing, and trying to satisfy my sometimes need to work by being a French interpreter.

Sharon Shempp,
Spanish

I would probably be off in some Latin American country (hopefully Brazil) working on an advanced degree in Latin American Studies. For some extra spending money perhaps I'd give boat tours down il rio Amazonas or work in a Brazilian Restaurant making feijoida. Who knows? I might meet some brilliant Brazilian dentist.

Dean Sexton,
Science

I would be involved in some aspect of Biology. I think that preparing ecological impact studies would be interesting as well as profitable. Research in ethnobotany is another alternative which appeals to me.

Heidi Armstrong,
Fourth Grade

I'd be looking for a teaching job while going to grad school. Either that or starving.

Dan Neukom
History

I would like to open a small restaurant - Maximum ten tables. The menu would change daily according to availability of various delicacies. A superior wine list would be a must. All food would be natural and wholesome. Service would be friendly and personal, the prices would be reasonable. Regular customers would receive discounts and additional special attention.

if you were not teaching, what would you most likely be doing?

Cyndi Wolfe,
Second Grade

I would most likely be doing something easy like lion taming, or parachute jumping.

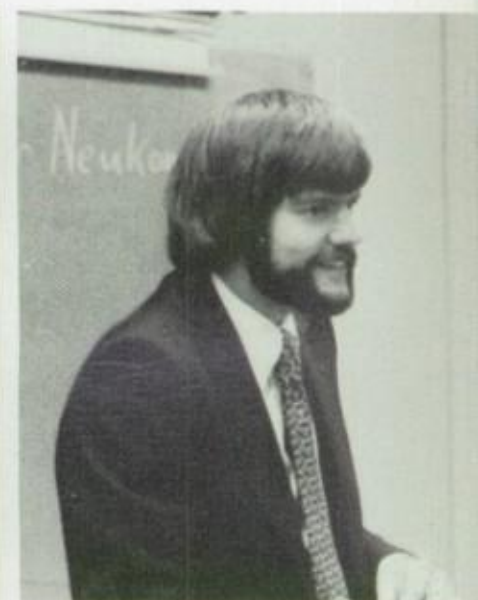

Rod Geier,
History/Mathematics

Trying to get into medical school.

Faculty

Judy Welte,
French

Working on my master's and studying drama and film because I like these areas for fun. I would like to be traveling or perhaps working abroad.

Millile Crowell,
Kindergarten Assistant

Without the dough I make from teaching, into an empty purse I'd be reaching.

Friedl Graham,
Music

I'd probably be a piano player in an ice cream parlor or bar.

Wendy Warren,
Pre-Kindergarten Asst.

Having a baby.

Dave Hechler,
English, P.E.

For a long time I was considerin' goin' into th' alligator business. I was goin' migrate down to Loosiana an' get me a alligator farm. After I got too old ta wrestle with 'em myself, I'd hire kids (maybe ex-students) to take over and I'd just breed 'em (the alligators). I think it woulda been a great tourist attraction - good for America. Then I got into the teachin' game, and darned if I didn't find there wasn't a hair a difference 'twixt the two!

Diane Rogers,
Third Grade

I'd be a high fashion model who sold AVON on the side.

Barbara Rosenberg,
Kindergarten Assistant, P.E.

I would like to be in politics, not necessarily as an elected official but somewhere in the Democratic party. I think it is a wide open field with so many alternatives. To me, nothing could be more challenging.

Pat Fels,
English

I would probably be going to med school or law school, like most of my college compatriots. Early in my junior year, however I chose to follow in the steps of my university founder Leland Stanford by dedicating myself to "children of California." I wish only that those same children could be properly grateful. I also might like to be a professional cat breeder. As the owner of three happy and healthy felines, I consider myself a semi-professional already.

Sally Underwood,
Third Grade

I would spend more time backpacking, skiing, playing tennis and traveling.

Lisa Bisgyer,
Second Grade

I would have tightrope walking on the powerlines.

Frances Jorjorian,
Spanish

Why not follow the Jan and
Dean dictum? "Surf City Here
We Come" or "Two Girls for Every Boy?" or "Two Boys for Every Girl."

Jan Mellon,
Pre-Kindergarten

Children in Country Day School appear happy, contented and challenged! To broaden their experiences and to prepare them for ever increasing responsibilities, their role in decision making could be further encouraged. Given increasing opportunities to practice democracy each child's self-image will be enhanced and he/she will become increasingly more responsible for himself, his school, and his community.

Anne Adams,
Physical Education

Enrollment might be more attractive if SCDS had more academic oriented clubs and more enrichment classes.
Plus, without a doubt a gymnasium.

Susan Oden,
Pre-Kindergarten Assistant

Present a film on the school's intellectual and artistic accomplishments.

Jan Coe,
First Grade

SCDS is doing everything that it can to make the school attractive for both prospective and current students. It offers a broad based curriculum. The faculty is enthusiastic and attempts to meet the needs of each student. The school offers students a rich academic background, as well as a variety of enrichment activities.

Bob Fearn,
Science, Math

The school needs a student lounge, a cafeteria, a gym, more clubs and activities, a wider variety of courses, and an effective channel through which students could participate in school decisions.

Marti White,
Fifth Grade

A few suggestions to make SCDS more attractive to incoming students and those students and teachers already here -

1. Supply cushioned chairs for all.
2. Provide sauna for teachers.
3. Bring in catered food.

Faculty

What do you think could be changed at SCDS to make it more attractive to students who are considering enrollment as well as students who are presently enrolled?

Vicki Howell,
First Grade

As far as I am concerned, SCDS provides the most outstanding curriculum and has the most creative and over-qualified staff of any school in the area. Our facilities have improved tremendously in the last year and with future growth in this area, I don't see any reason for change. Current students and those considering enrollment, who are intelligent, should be quite satisfied with what SCDS has to offer.

Barbara Rodgers, Kindergaretn

I would like to see more interaction between the younger students and the older students.

Kitane Takagishi,
French

The students at SCDS could benefit from a greater sense of unity, spirit and pride in their school. Increasing our participation in sports and forming active clubs for and by the students would help us achieve this goal.

Sandy Stewart,
Fourth Grade

I think that SCDS is on its way to becoming more attractive to its students and prospective students. It only takes money to build adequate libraries and good sized classrooms.

Kay Schweizer, Art

This is a difficult question to answer but I will try to do it in terms of how we could improve the art classes. I should begin by saying that we have more space and a better working area than we did last year, however, some improvements could be made. Our room is large but it functions as the only art room for grades 7 through 12 as well as providing space for some lower school classes. In order to utilize this space we could create better storage areas for supplies and student work in progress which are definitely needed. This year the school bought a potters wheel which has been a wonderful addition to our program. Many students enjoy ceramics and could benefit by being able to work in a separate area used only for clay and which had a kiln and facilities for mixing their own glazes as well as throwing on the wheel.

Joe Maguire, Mathematics
Have more breaks, free snacks, less homework, fewer tests and more ski trips.

Nancy Remington, Kindergarten

SCDS could be more attractive to the students and community if there was a greater emphasis on the arts.

Valerie Saribalis,
Music

An improved means of communication between students and faculty members concerning students' activities and related matters would benefit all concerned.

Why should we be in such deperate haste to succeed and in such desperate enterprises?
 If a man does not keep pace with his companions,
 perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer.
 Let him step to the music he hears, however measured or far away.

Henry David Thoreau
 (This says it quite "thoroughly")

3.) Dave Pollock

1.) Liz Kibbey
Now is the time for celebration for myself and the people around me.

2.) Jack Bankowsky

1.) Eric Eakin

2.) Margaret McAlister

All that we see or seem
Is but a dream within a dream.

Edgar Allen Poe

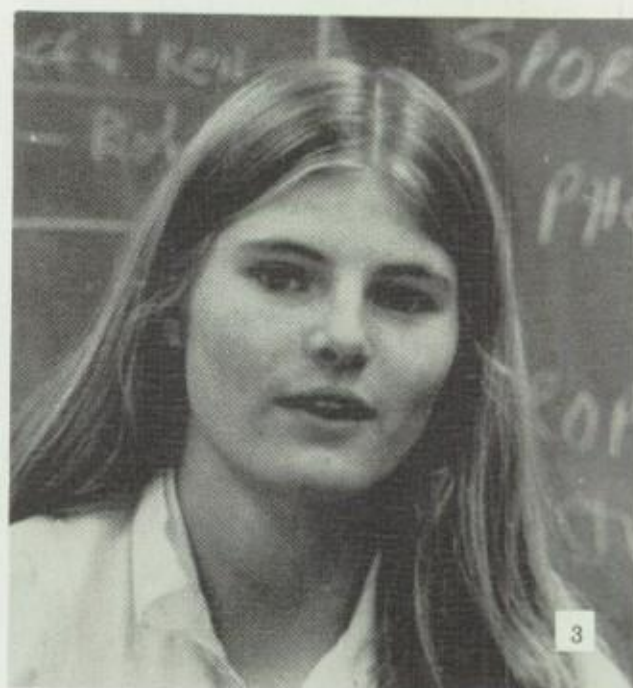

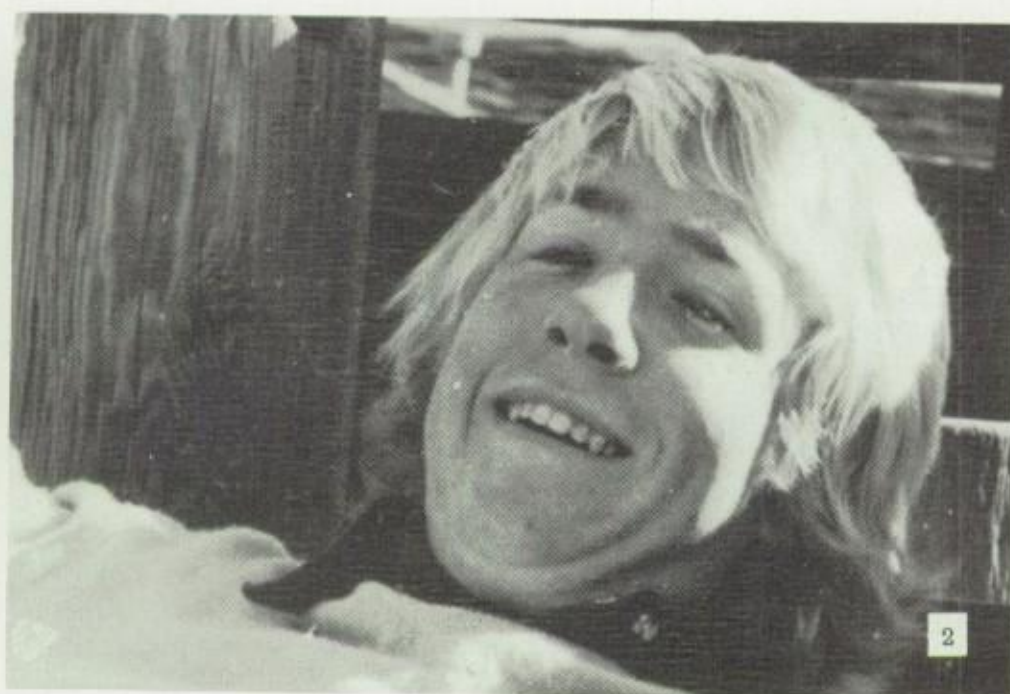

1.) Cathy Miles

The key to the treasure is the treasure.

John Barth

2.) Jeff Young The End

When I was one,
I had just begun
When I was two
I was nearly new
When I was three
I was hardly me
When I was four
I was not much more
When I was five
I was just alive
But now I am six, I'm as clever as clever
So I think I'll be six now forever and ever.
A.A. Milne

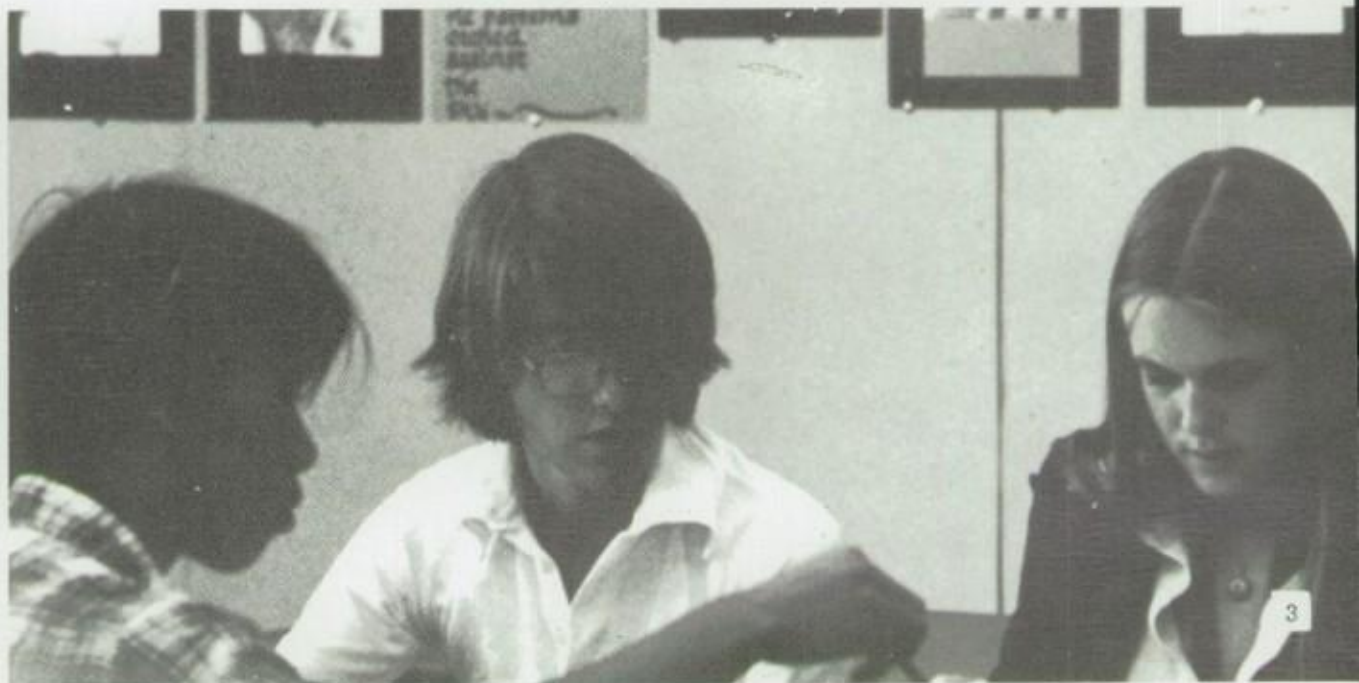

1.) Rob MacAulay
To Graduate is to fall from one cliff to another.

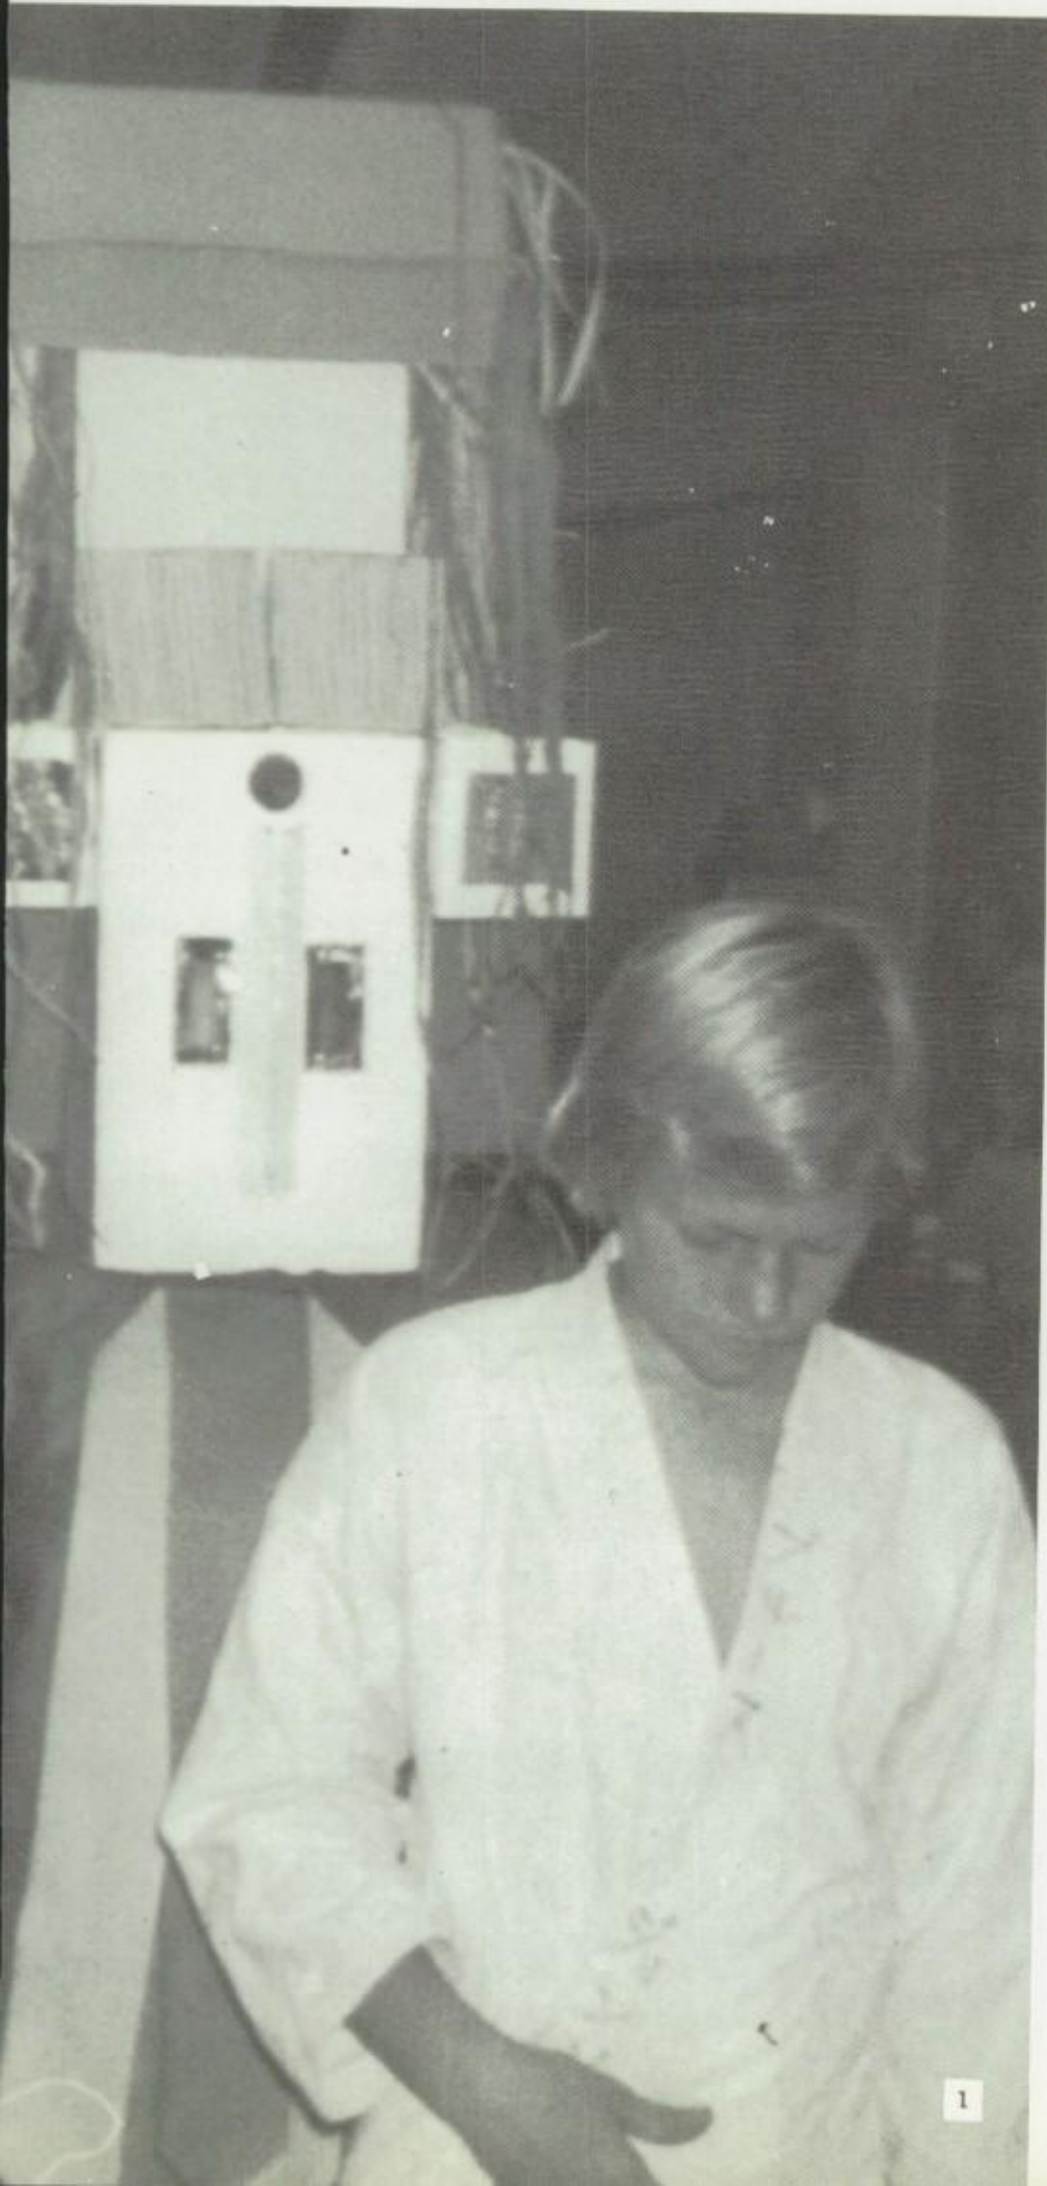

2.) David Burr
Life
It needn't have ribaldry's taint
Or strive to make everyone faint.
There's a type that's demure
And perfectly pure
Though it helps quite a lot if it ain't.

3.) Mary Jean Hutchinson
It is time!

1. Music to make the Muses sing. Ms. Serrabellas is the piper, Richard Mix and Courtney Page are the pipers.
2. Raise high the roofbeams! MaryAlice Mackey adds a graham cracker to her incipient palace.
3. Phil Chew and Jack Bankowsky are eager to lend Colette Martel a hand. "Hey, fellas, work on your own paintings."
4. "Are we ready for spaghetti? Does the Pope like pasta?" A scene from the pasta party, starring Julie Miller, Beth Gilbert and good ole Ms. Tidey.
5. Get a haircut or get a violin. Joe Keene has made his choice, as he scratches out a bit of "The Devil's Music."

1. Bruce Johnson and Weirdo (Mrs. Schweizer) at the Junior High Halloween Festival.
2. Look what the wind blew in! Arquelle Frasse has the matter firmly in hand. Ms. Luna is the lady bug (as if you didn't know). Ho hum, a normal day at the office.
3. Liz Smeloff jamming in a hot session. ZZZZZZZZ.
4. Migrant walnut pickers; Jack Bankowsky and the McAlister twins hard at work.

- 1.) Are you sure the Marx Brothers started this way?
 2.) Tamara Hiatt, with the SCDS Squaw Valley Flyers, gets ready to hit the slopes.
 3.) Please Liz, don't put this picture in the yearbook. (Nora Hutchinson)
 4.) We're number one. (Tres Meyer)

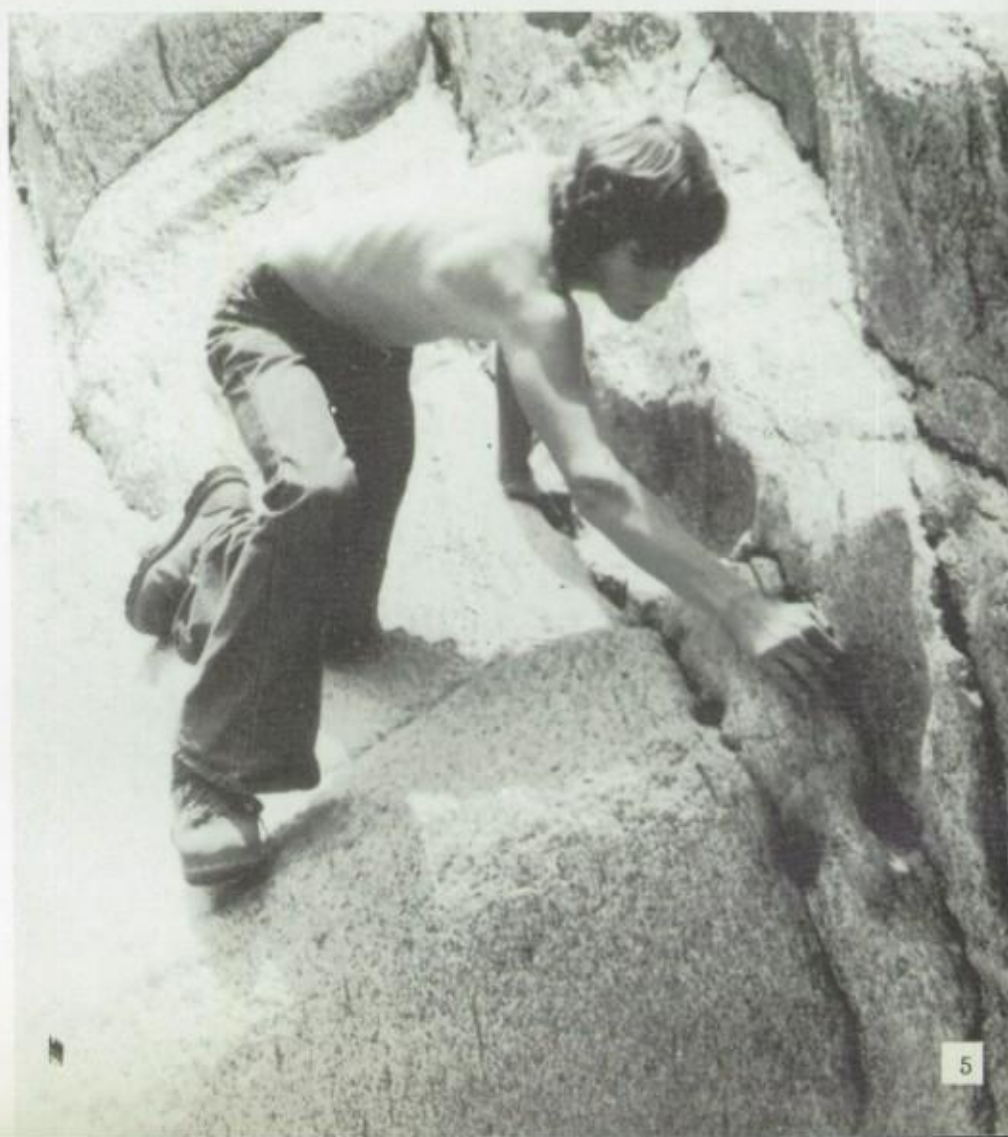

- 1.) Sandra Cheah, Bryan Turner, Judy Kobrin, and Katina Tsakopoulos pushing day old cake.
- 2.) It's my ball and you can't have it. (Chisti Allen)
- 3.) Eleanor Burr, Jacklen Owens, and Phyllis Baldry and something about monkeys.
- 4.) Cathy Anderson breaks the trail at Yosemite.
- 5.) Homecoming King and Queen, Heidi McIntosh and George Frioux.

Heidi A.R. McIntosh
Homecoming Queen of S.C.D.S.
1977.

- 1.) Sure . . . (Ha Ha Ha) I'll have you back by 12:00. (Phil Chew to Arquelle Frasse)
- 2.) Michele Silverman on the job at Sacramento Metro Airport.
- 3.) John Marra picks up a bad habit from Hermi.
- 4.) This crowd runs the students at SCDS?? (Wendy Stoltz, Caroline McAlister, Mary Jean Hutchinson, Cathy Miles, Phil Chew.
- 5.) I don't care if it is a closed campus, I'm breaking out. (Richard Bankowsky).

Sports

Once again, sports fans, the athletes of S.C.D.S. experienced a year of success . . . or at least enthusiasm.

Under Coach Neukom, the soccer team won an indeterminate but statistically significant number of games this year. The biggest of the team's wins came against arch-rivals Jesuit and Rio Americano. Ah, is there a pleasure sweeter than sweet revenge? It has been suggested that, due to the condition of our field, we call our soccer program not interscholastic but SANDLOT ball!

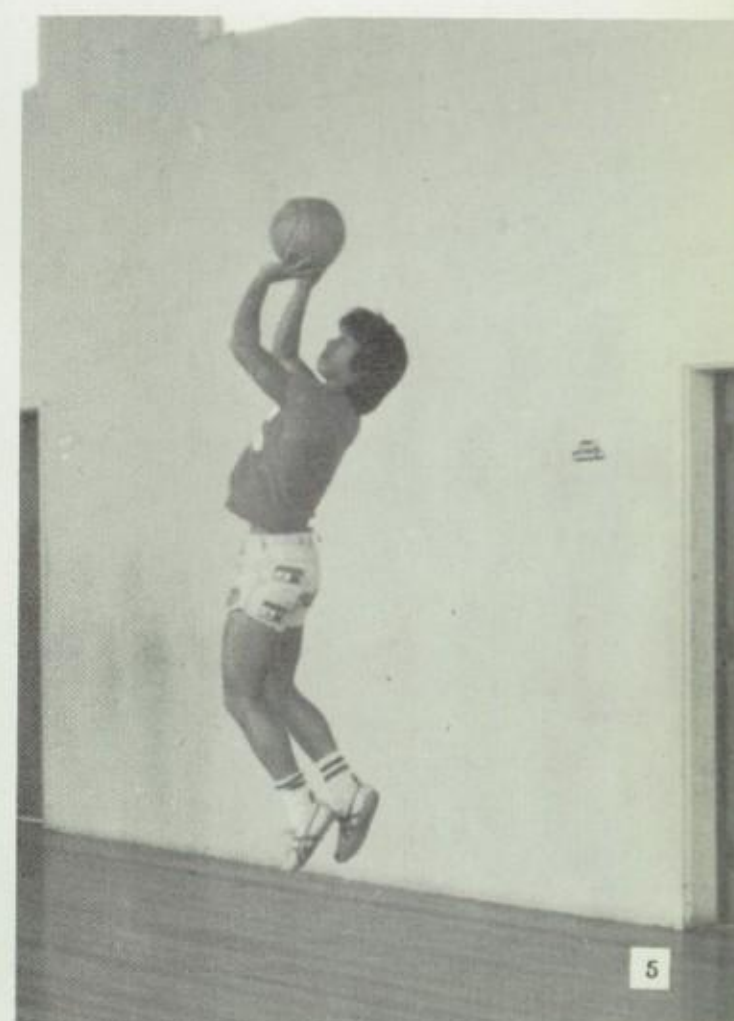

The basketball program was revived this year under the able tutelage of coach Geier. Playing in the Church of God (our home court), how could we lose? Through the long, grueling practices, the tough schedule, the night games, the curfews, and the strict training regulations, the team held together remarkably well. Having won two games already in this young season, we can realistically look forward to a bright future indeed.

In the co-rec area of sports, "the Gridders" finished a undefeated football season, tying "Osake" in the S.C.D.S. Superbowl (but winning the championship on the strength of a previous victory over the same team). "Les Miserables" were exactly that after the lengthy season.

The 7th and 8th grade football team were a competitive bunch, and finished an enthusiastic, daring, devil-may-care season right around the .500 mark.

In sum, it has been a year of building, rebuilding, and of marked improvement and determination.

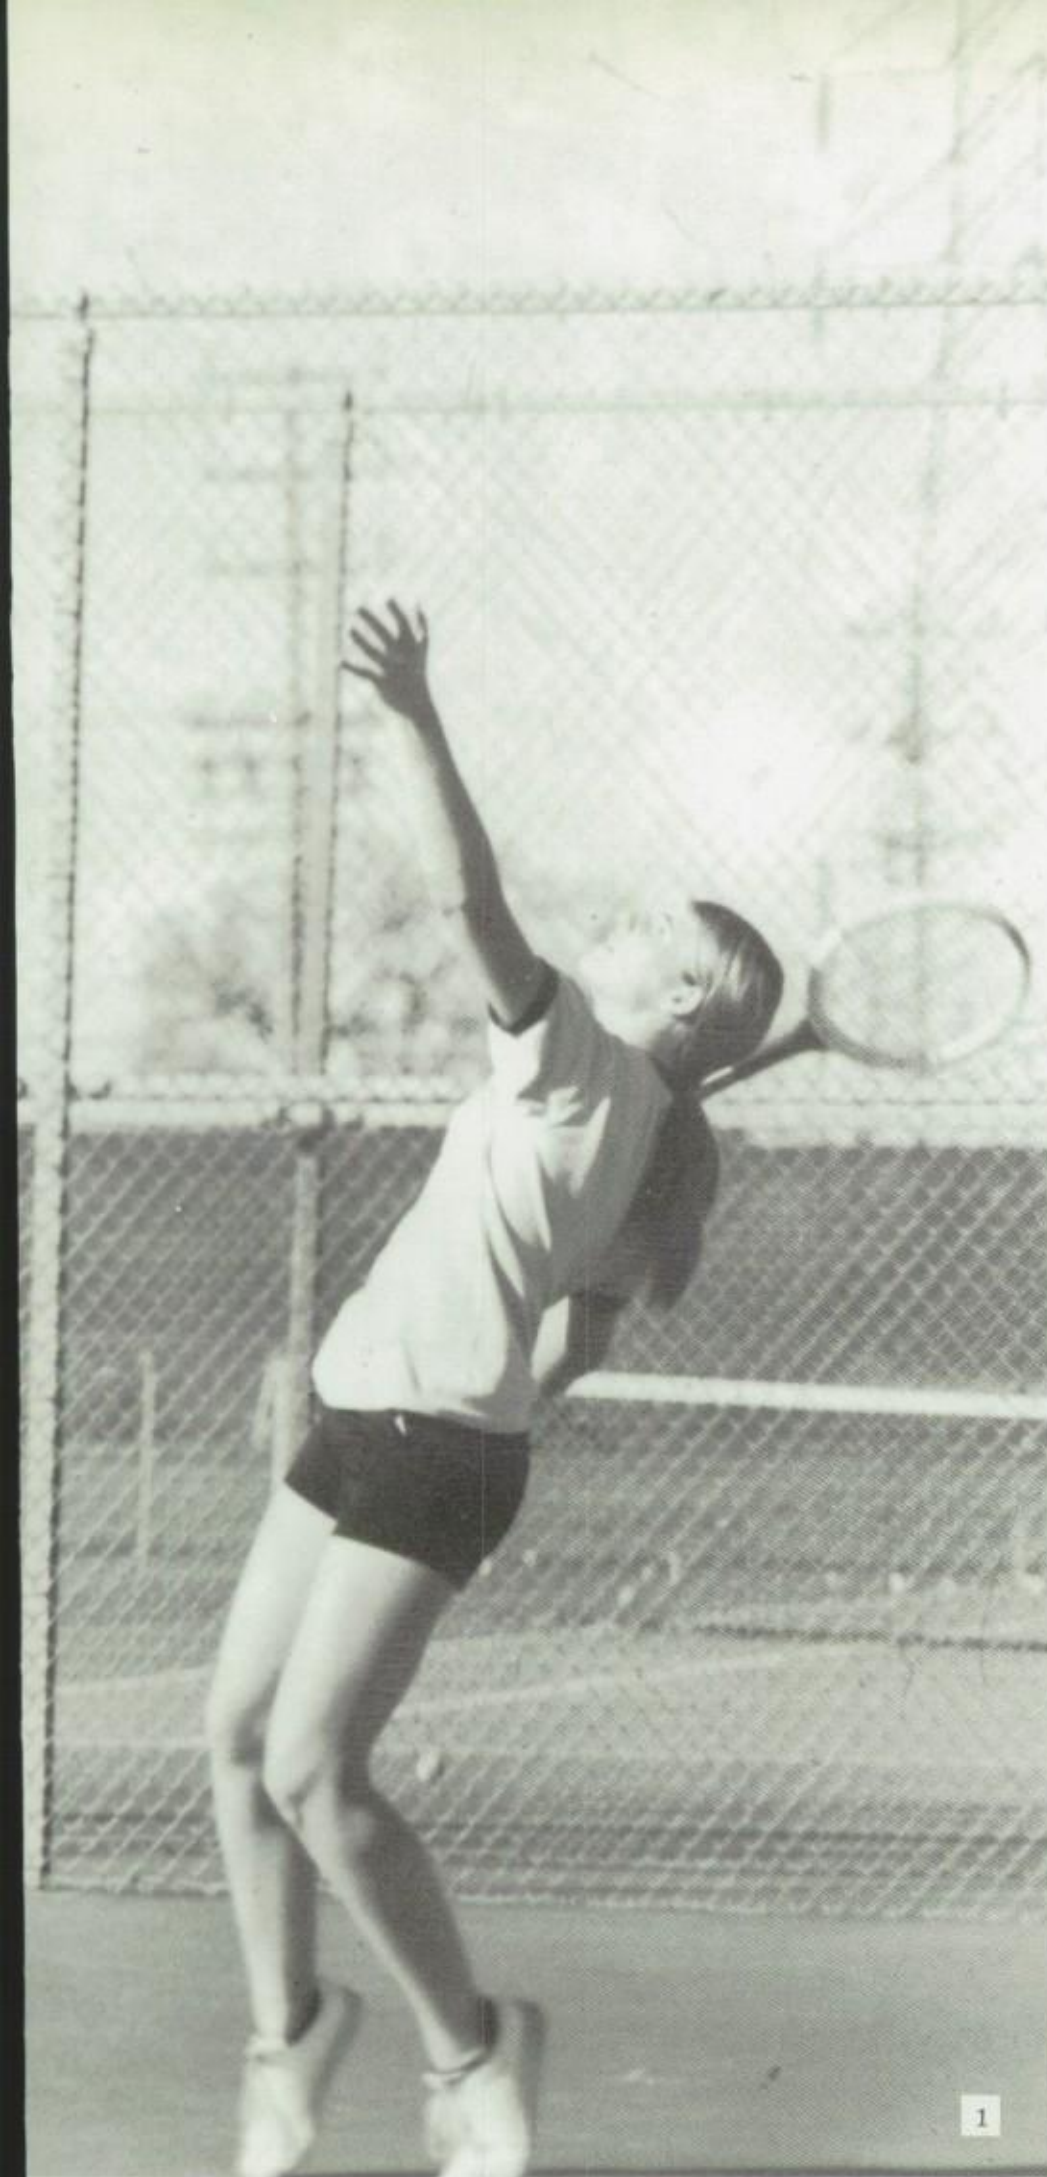

1. Robert Boggs leaves the opposition behind as he gracefully dances for the basket.
2. George Frioux freezes for a picture-perfect photo.
3. Phil Chew attacks; Ken Frasse loafs.
4. Rob MacAulay takes a bow for his fans. Ken Frasses loafs AGAIN.
5. Poetry in motion: Phil Chew.
6. "I got it, I got it! Now what do I do with it?" is what Ken Press' expression seems to say. Carl Guidi, Steve McIntosh and friends seem to be doing the bump.

- 1.) Christi Allen dives forward for another save in a co-rec volleyball game while John Mara scrutinizes the exterior structure of the ball.
- 2.) Mark Allen listens attentively as the 7th and 8th grade football team plans for revenge.
- 3.) Melissa Merrill displaying her talent in dance class.
- 4.) Co-rec huddles were often more interesting than the game-plays themselves.
- 5.) The S.C.D.S. basketball team, from top left to bottom right: Rob McAuldy, David Burr, Joe Keene, Hal Miles, Rudy Geier (coach), Phil Loney, Phil Chew, Robert Boggs, and Bruce Cook.

- 1.) MaryJean Hutchinson at her best.
- 2.) Dave Pollock waits attentively for the onslaught.
- 3.) Tom Collins on the ball.
- 4.) "No grace is no disgrace," Denise Silverman sails over Colette Martell.

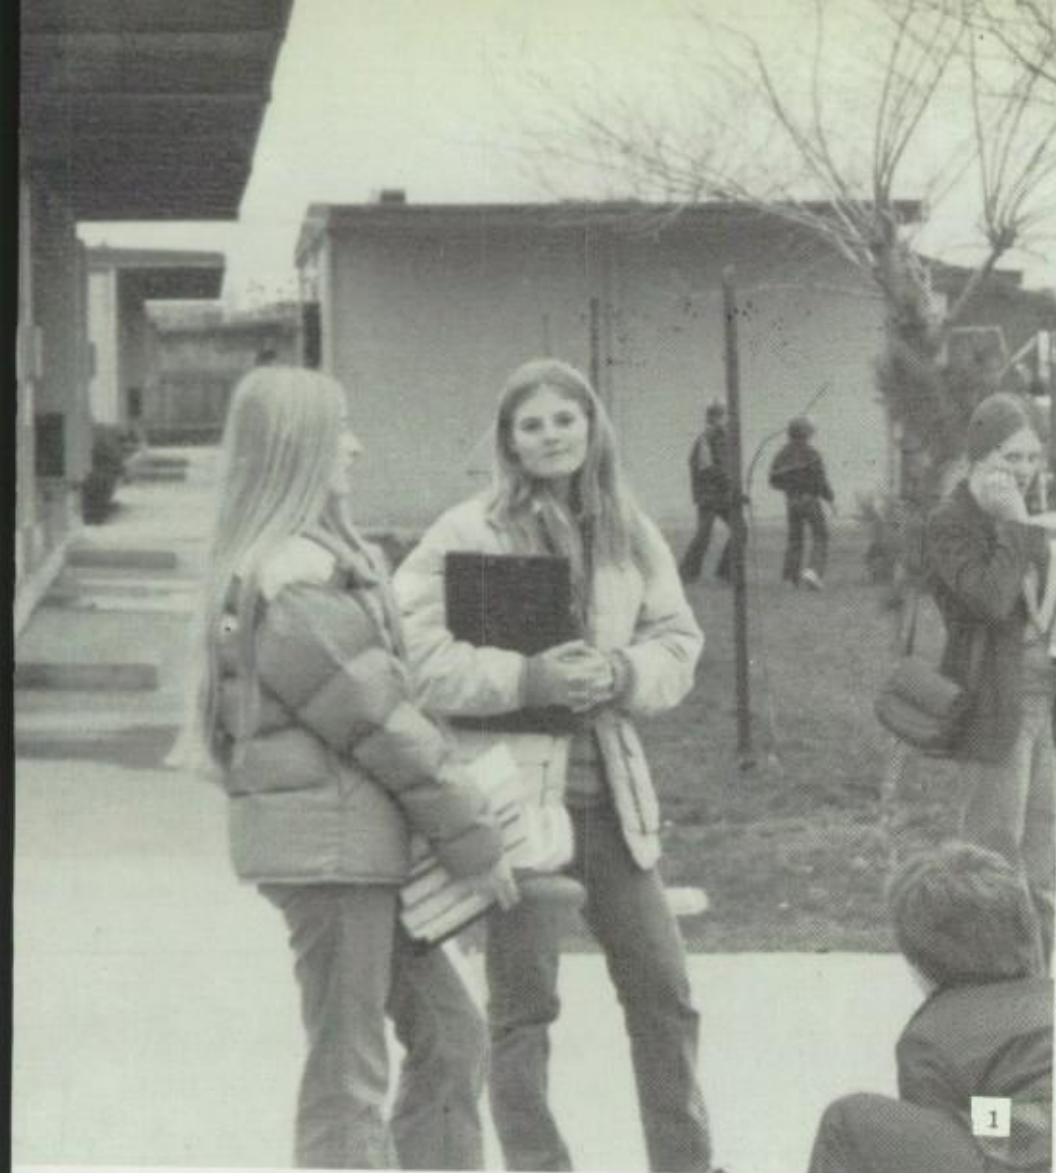

Activities

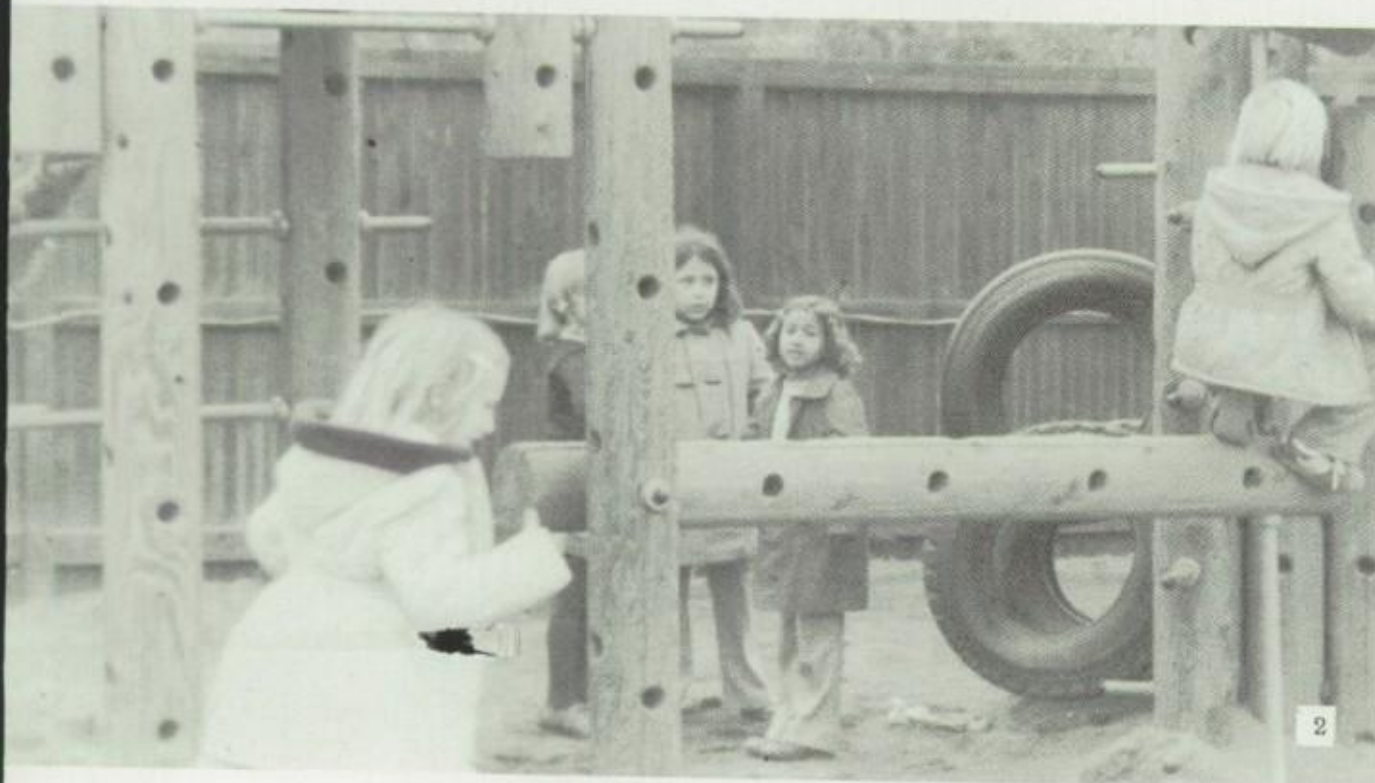

- 1.) Parties sure are fun. (Chris Coop)
- 2.) "eek!, eek!, a mouse." Squeaks Mary Alice Mackey.
- 3.) "Ah safe at last" (Cameron Gallaway)
- 4.) Our soccer team in action.

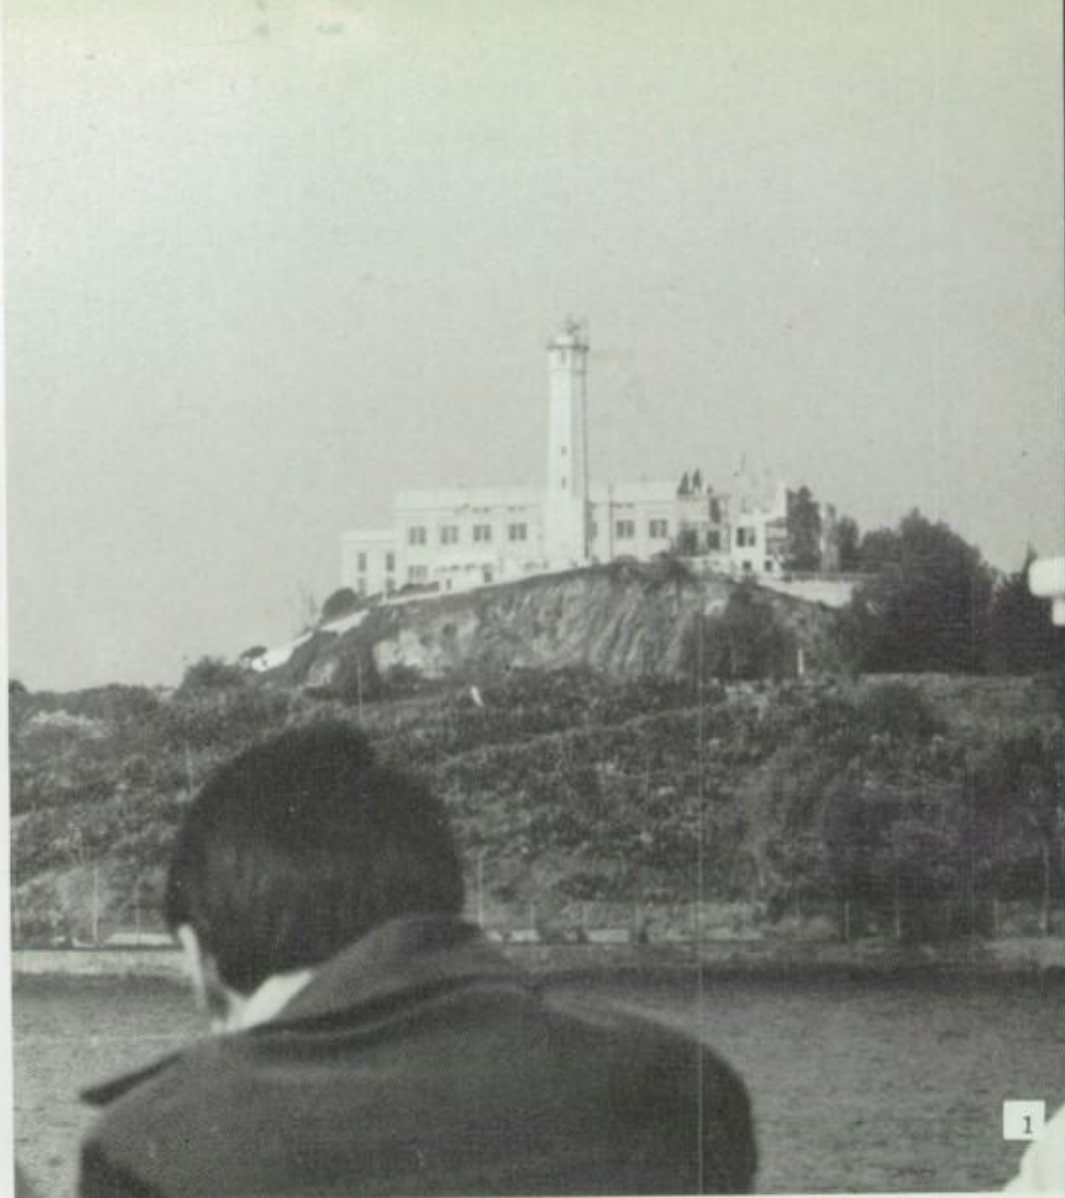

- 1.) Our favorite activity - Going home. (Nora Hutchinson, Mary Jean Hutchinson, and Margaret McAlister).
- 2.) Second Graders frolic in the sand.
- 3.) Keith Campbell sings a snappy tune.
- 4.) Darren Law gives the yearbook photographers his favorite smile.
- 5.) The Matthews on one of their frequent visits.

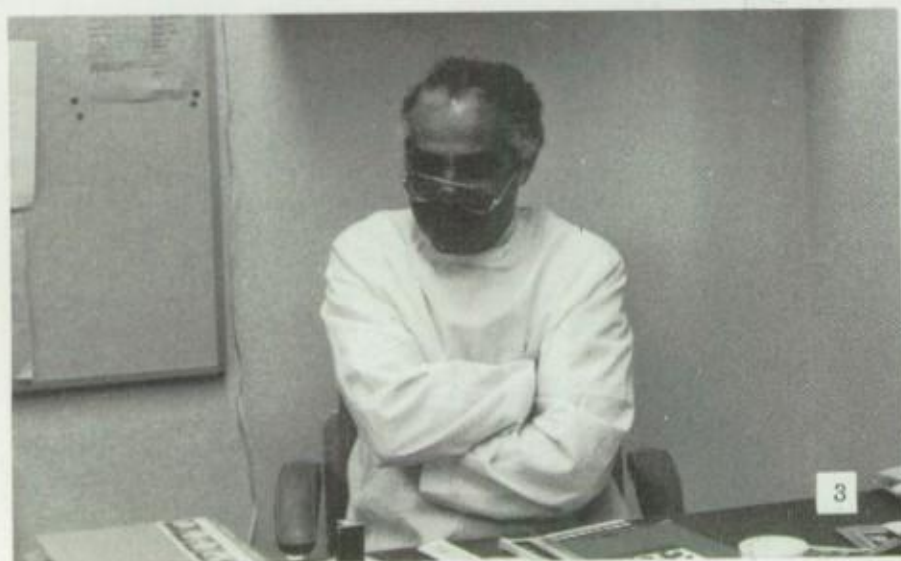

- 1.) Jot-wing "on the rocks."
- 2.) Sheri Crawford shows Mason Barnes how the "Fonz" does it. A-a-a-a-y.
- 3.) They paved paradise and put up a parking-lot.
- 4.) Peter Domich gives his "State of the Pre-Kindergarten" speech.

- 1.) Rainy days and Mondays always get me down.
- 2.) (Giovanni Favero) I agree with the decision of the panel.
- 3.) It is the decision of this panel that SCDS goes to a 3-day week. (Rob Mac Aulay, Ken Frasse, George Frioux, and Phil Chew.)

Medallion Staff

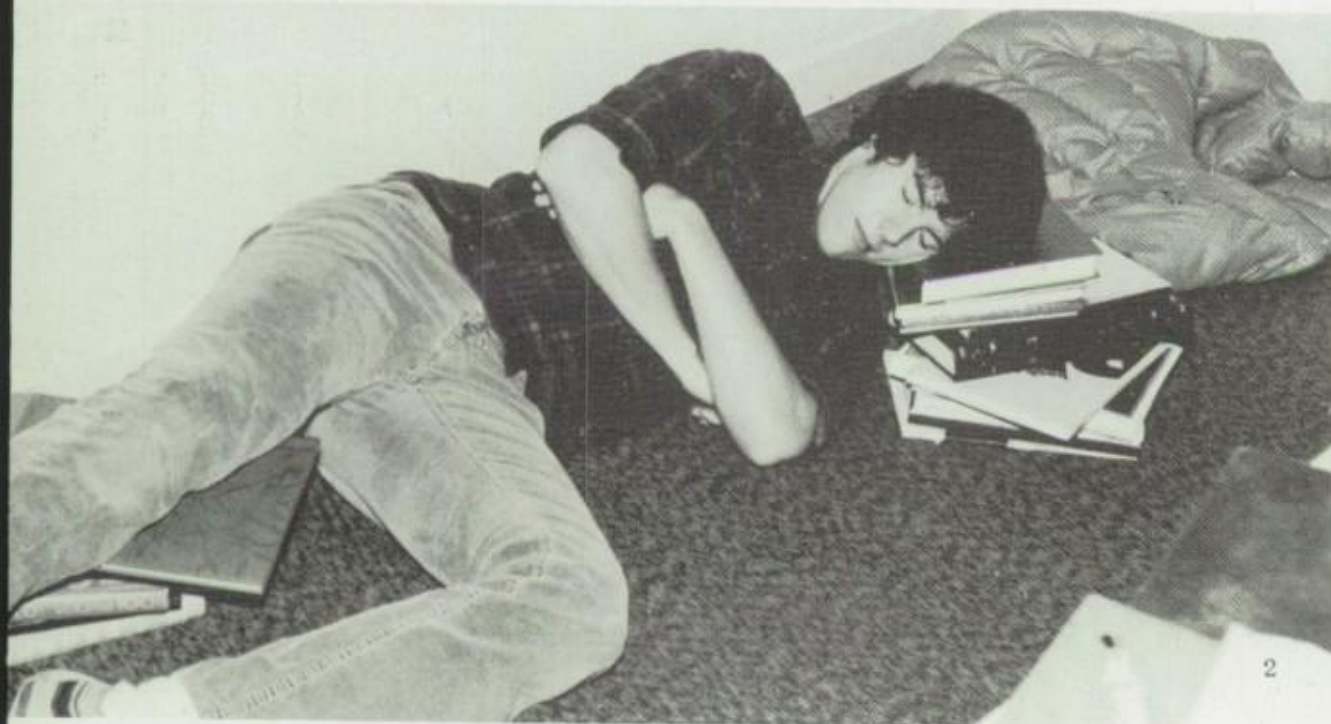

- 1.) "How do you spell Yearbook?" aks proofreader Wendy Stoltz.
- 2.) I want to be the "Cover Girl" (Arquelle Frasse).
- 3.) Our dedicated advisor who somehow managed to survive through all this. (Mr. Pignata).
4. Our expert photographers and assistants were always working to improve their darkroom techniques. (Jeff Young, Nicki Lampert, Mary Jean Hutchinson, Ken Frasse)
- 5.) "T.G.I.O.!" (Thank God It's Over!) cries Editor Liz Kibbey.

- 1.) Jeff Young and Rob McAulay perform to raise funds for the yearbook. Tim Watson-Williams contributes.
- 2.) Layout editor Rob McAulay uses other yearbooks to gain new ideas.
- 3.) Yearbook staff members Frank Guidi, Wendi Stoltz, Margaret McAlister and Nora Hutchinson are always there when you need them.
- 4.) "I wonder if Mr. Pignata has left yet." Staff members Courtney Page, Frank Guidi, Nora Hutchinson, Wendy Stoltz and Margaret McAlister.
- 5.) "Why can't we have a centerfold like PLAYBOY," asks George Frioux.

Dear John.
(Ha) this is a Dear John letter!
No, I don't want to say anything comin', but I do want to say that I think you're a really funny guy and really nice.
We had alot of fun this year fooling around in history with ol Neck 'til Neck.
I hope I get to see you some time and that its no final goodbye just cause
we're going to different schools.
Keep being funny.
Love
Wendy

John,
I've known you
since I was in eighth grade! I've probably found out (I think you call it "bullshit")
but I don't really blush, but I don't person, but I don't anyone then because
